Dear Members,

welcome to the first edition of the Swiss bulletin "TELL"!

Memories - News. I hope you will enjoy reading about some events of the past and future. Stories and photos shall recall nice, funny, interesting, lovely, new and old, long or short, noisy or quiet, humid (not talking about the weather of course) moments during the last months of our Swiss society.

The Swiss Club was founded on the 14th of November 1990. Christmas-dinner, Business- and Ladies Luncheon, monthly get-togethers (every second Tuesday, now at G&G), Swiss Day, 1st of August celebration and Jassen have enriched our leisure time in Taiwan.

And more is to come: Santa Claus, Christmas-party, Jassen-Championship, Golf&Tennis-Tournament, Luncheons etc.....
Don't miss it!

Please join these events!!!

Let me introduce myself. My name is Catherine Kriech, I am a St.Gallerin. After staying in New York and Hong Kong my husband and I arrived in Taiwan 1 1/2 years ago.

For the first time in my life, I am doing an editor job. So you can imagine that I could need some ideas, suggestions and especially stories from you. Just call me! Beware, one day I might call you for some cover-up.....

I hope for your cooperation!

You may contact me at home Tel.873-5613 or through my husband Benno at Swiss Bank Corporation Tel.719-4406, Fax 719-4407.

well then see you in the next issue...

January 14th 1992

February 11th 1992
March 10th 1992

Second: advertisement in our Swiss Bulletin! As TELL should be self-supportive, we are seeking ads. Please participate. Place your advertisement in your/our Swiss magazine!!!

Here some details:

Price: NT$ 1'000.- for a full page
Size: Length 21,5cm
Width 16,3cm
Print: black and white

Never mind if you don't have the exact measurements, the printer can reduce the ad himself. But please try to deliver me an original advertisement, dark copies won't come out very well: best would be the negative of your ad. A yearly advertisement-subscription will be highly appreciated!! Save yourself (and myself...) a lot of bookkeeping. Pay in once NT$ 4'000.- for four issues TELL '92! Nevertheless you still may change your ad during the year.

For next year you will be able to read the Swiss Bulletin four times. I try to cover different subjects like: what happened at SAT-meetings during the last months, what is there to come, News from Switzerland, travel-tips, different activities within the community, infos about business, household etc., a children's corner, jokes etc.....

I hope that you will share some of your experiences with us!! Please send me reports to be published!!! Thank you!!!

Until then, I hope you will enjoy reading T E L L.....

A word from the President

Dear Friends,

Welcome to the first Edition of TELL!

We are grateful to Catherine Kriech for having taken on the arduous task to edit the bulletin for the Swiss Association in Taiwan. Like in all such endeavours, it is important that she can count on contributions from you, to make the publication more diversified and interesting.

Our search for a suitable title, after having no response to a circular earlier this year, culminated at the end of a dinner given for Dr. R. Wyder (see report), when, after much discussion and plenty of encouragement in the form of Kirsch and Pfluemli, we settled for TELL. I hope you like the choice!

Your Committee has been busy with planning a number of activities, in order to do justice to Switzerland's Anniversary Year.

Participation in the events organised so far has been rewarding and we hope you will all join the Yearend Ball on December 6, which promises to be a splendid affair and an appropriate way to say goodbye to 1991.

With best wishes,

Is there a Swiss culture? The cultivation of political consensus, respect for minorities, and the political equilibrium federalism is intended to ensure shape Swiss culture as a whole. Local culture and language are determined by the divisions of the landscape. In every valley people speak a different dialect or even language, celebrate different festivals and cook different foods. Our cities are international in character. The costs of culture and sports are borne largely by municipalities, cantons and private foundations. There are, for example, some 600 museums scattered throughout the country. The Federal Office of Culture and the PRO HELVETIA are active on the federal level and support artists in all fields. Particular emphasis is placed on the Swiss film industry, the culture and languages of minorities, cultural exchange with other countries, and preserving art monuments.

In 1991 Switzerland celebrates its 700-year jubilee. For 700 years democracy has been its mentor. For 700 years its linguistic, cultural and religious groups have, despite their diversity, been living side by side within narrow geographical confines, learning the human lesson of consensus and the political lesson of federalism.

What can be considered typical of Switzerland after its first 700 years? Its languages and cultures are no different from those of its larger neighbours. But its political culture is its very own – a source of pride and the basis of its prosperity.

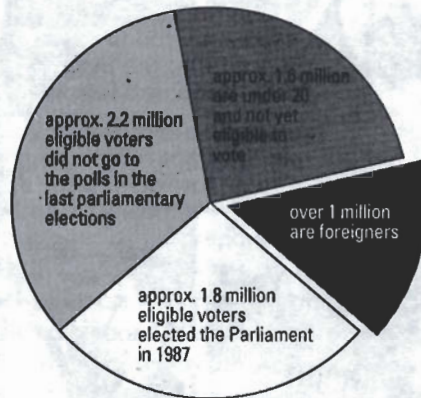

Chocolate: In 1988 Switzerland exported approximately 31,000 tons of chocolate for 246 million Sfr., but had to import 150 million Sfr. worth of cocoa butter for its manufacture. The annual Swiss per capita consumption of chocolate (11 kg, incl. sales to tourists) is the highest in the world.

Fondue and folklore: Milk, cheese and chocolate are products of our traditional alpine milk industry. Some 800,000 cows produce 3.8 million tons of milk, 39 % of which goes into cheese production. 82,000 tons of Emmentaler, Gruyère and Sbrinz were produced in 1989, 60 % thereof for export.

SWISS DAY 1991

Over 800 people enjoyed themselves at the SWISS DAY 1991, organised by the Swiss Association of Taiwan on May 25, 1991 as a special tribute to the 700th Anniversary of Switzerland.

The accent was on the traditions of Switzerland, in the shape of a folklore group (the Kims Brothers) playing traditional Swiss music and an outstanding offering of Swiss Food specialties prepared by the Swiss chefs working at the various hotels in Taipei. However, in keeping with the local tradition, a group of acrobats and a magician were contributing to the excitement of the afternoon. National and cantonal flags and other decorations transformed the Youth Activity Centre into a true 'Festhalle'. Performances by a Taiwan Aboriginal Dancing group rounded off the programme. But nobody left the hall before the Lucky Draw had been raffled off, because generous donations from many sponsors meant a host of outstanding prizes. Some die-hards insisted on exhausting the supply of excellent Aigle and Dole, and so a successful event ended after seven hours of non-stop entertainment and activity.

The proceeds of the occasion was a hefty NT$600'000 which was raised to support the Social Centre in Tawu with a financial contribution over the next three years (see separate article), thus making a tangible Swiss contribution to an underprivileged group in Taiwan.

Our thanks go the SAT Committee which worked very hard to make the Swiss Day such a success, but also to the sponsoring companies for their generous donations. The many helpers deserve a special compliment for their unselfish support.

How about an encore soon?

LUCKY LOT AND FIREWORK MARK SWISS NATIONAL DAY

TAIPEI - An unexpected high figure of 170 Swiss citizens accompanied by their local friends on August 1, 1991 convened on the roof of Taipei's prestigious Ritz Hotel to celebrate the 700th birthday of the world's oldest democracy in Europe Switzerland. Red-white flags and illuminated lanterns mirrored the uniquely joyful atmosphere of the attendants. The Hotel posed as a host in offering a welcome drink, a good occasion for vivid interaction among old hands and newcomers.

The taped address of Swiss Council President Flavio Cotti, the singing of the National anthem of both countries - a first on this island - recalled past youth times spent in sweet home.

Vice President of the organizing "Swiss Association in Taiwan" Hans Bohi reminded on the Ruetli oath 700 years ago and how solidarity and courage effected the emerging of the very Swiss State only in 1848.

In honorable memory of the forefathers the said speaker originating from Au/Fischingen, located in the Eastern part of Switzerland, admonished all present to work for peace and to treat mother earth without selfish interest.

"With our united efforts we are looking forward to a world in peace and as careful shepherds - not as plundering robbers - we take cautiously care of the creation", he said verbally.

Concluding his encouraging speech Bohi as long time resident of Taiwan compared the similarities of both countries: Almost the same surface, scarce resources, beautiful sceneries, hard working inhabitants and an economy depending heavily on export.

Replying Mr. Sy Chung-sang, a member of the Control Yuan here, praised Switzerland for its extraordinary achievements. In an interview Sy asserted that he will visit the "garden of Europe" next year. May his high expectations be fulfilled!

During a buffet dinner excelled through fried sausages a firework drew special attention of the whole community. The lucky drawing in order to distribute 25 precious gifts including original Chinese paintings represented another fulminate highlight later in the evening. Goddess Fortuna handled the matter with justice as the jubilant Swiss and the Chinese guests were equally winners. The grand 700th Swiss National night under the open sky on the top of Taipei Ritz will be remembered forever.

SOCIAL CENTRE IN TAWU RECEIVES DONATION

Last month, SAT President Hans-Ruedi Burkhalter and SAT Treasurer Michel Piquerez handed over a cheque for NT$200'000 for the Social Centre in Tawu, the charity designated by the SAT Committee as the recipient of the fund-raising drive during the Swiss Day in May.

The Social Centre was initiated last year (see following article) and comes under the auspices of the Missionsgesellschaft Bethlehem in Taitung, itself largely guided by the missionaries of Immensee. Therefore, a direct link to Switzerland exists.

Tawu is on the southeastern part of Taiwan and is still largely inhabited by aboriginal tribes.

Rev. G. von Wyl (center) receiving the cheque from H. Burkhalter (left) and Michel Piquerez (right), on behalf of the Social Centre Tawu.

INTRODUCTION TO SOCIAL CENTRE OF TAWU

Tawu is a small town at the southeastern tip of Taiwan. Its regional population is around 30'000 people and consists mainly of the aborigin tribes of the Paiwan and Rukkai. Agriculture and hunting still provide the main employment and income. Social poverty is still prevalent, partly also stemming from the fact that the male population was decimated in WWII due to conscription by the Japanese Army.

Last year, the catholic priest Titus BAO Shin-Ching (himself a Paiwan) initiated the foundation of a Social Centre in Tawu with the following main objectives:

- General assistance to the local aboriginal population (e.g. correspondence on their behalf, telephone counselling, completion of forms etc.)
- Financial support of families to enable their children's schooling
- Assistance for the aged and invalids
- Assistance and mediation efforts for people who wish to emigrate to the more developed parts of Taiwan
- Carrying out of educational courses
- Financial assistance for aboriginal families who may otherwise consider selling (!) their young children or force them into prostitution (see following article)
- Legal counsel

The Social Centre has one full-time employee, Mrs. Anna CHANG Shu-Hua who conducts the activities of the centre together with four volunteers.

Support of the Centre is particularly worthwhile because:

- It is a very rare initiative by the aboriginals to help themselves
- The day-to-day running is in local hands and therefore assured
- The support from and cooperation with several church communities in the area promises a long-term existence of the Centre
- Very limited administration with modest means
- The financial assistance is directly traceable to the needy individual families
- The protection of Youth from sale or misuse is of very real actuality
- The Centre can be visited to gain an insight into the plight of the aboriginal population

Christian Concern for Child Victims of Prostitution

Tawu - Taiwan ROC
Report

Child Prostitution has been in the attention and care of people through the outloud voices of the caring people and the ongoing report of various kinds of mass media. Though the work for children prostitutes has been going on, there are still a lot more children dropping in the hands of dealers and our work is made more complicated and difficult. Now the most urgent to do for us is to care and protect the children before they are caught by dealers, and to make people aware of this issue.

The goal of our project this year is to stress on the prevention and give children a better understanding of the problem. We do this in three ways:

First we had gathered about some 20 children before graduation from the secondary school. We gave them guidance for a better understanding on male and female sexuality, friendship making, job hunting, and drug taking. This is in order to make them to confront the problem of child prostitution, to know how to prevent, not to drop in traps and dangerous situation. Besides, we encourage them to go on for High School studies. We provide them the data about all the High Schools. We give them financial aid , if they are in need. Our purpose is to avoid them to go too early into the complicated society.

The guidance we could give them this year was a good help for them to know, to understand, to be careful and to protect themselves from traps. Some of them had changed their mind. They go to High School now instead of looking for jobs. Some of them gave up their plan to do part time study and part time work in the big cities. They remained here in the east coast to study in the High School. Some of them did not go away from home, but took time at home to make a good consideration and choice of job and working place. We are still worrying, because there are a lot more children, who never came to attend the workshops we had done.

Secondly, we have been visiting families to give guidance to the parents on child prostitution problems to let them become careful for the safety of their young girls, not to be cheated by dealers, to provide them any reported data about child prostitute problem. We gave them the phone numbers and addresses of every helping institution. Our purpose to make this guidance by visiting families is to show our care for the children, that parents may notice the problems.

We are glad to have phones and visits from some parents who ask for help for their young girls, who look for a safe job and a safe place to work. It is a pity that so far we don't have enough data for them.

Thirdly, we are making now a network for those having been living in the big cities where they are strangers, without knowing the city environment, the living way of city people, and having difficulties in their jobs and life. They are in such a situation like without a family around, no way to ask for help, they might often be set up in traps and danger.

We have been contacting the families of those who are working outside and also those catechists who are working at every town, in order to collect their data individually. Then we classify those data into different groups or sections where they work in the west side of the island. Our purpose to do this work is to contact them not only by mail in order to give them guidance, but also to provide pastoral centers for aboriginal people with the names, phone numbers, addresses of those who are working outside. Each pastoral and social center can ^{come} in contact with them and invite them to join their activities.

Thank you very much for your concern and great support for our Center for Christian Concern. Now we present this simple report in order to let you know what and how we are doing our project. If you have any question or if you want to know details of our project, please, feel free to ask. We will be happy to let you know well about our Social Center.

Yours truthfully

Miss Shu-Hwa Chang

"ROCHE-CUP" - JASS CHAMPIONSHIP

On October 22, the first round of Roche-Cup Jass Tournament was played with the participation of 16 enthusiasts.

Quite a number of the (self-proclaimed) favorites did not yet reach peak form, struggling to adapt to the rather unconventional tactics used - occasionally even involuntary - by some of the underdogs!

As a result and after five very hard fought games Mr. Kurt Zeltner - a newcomer - took first place with remarkable 3532 points.

Congratulations Kurt!

There are still another four rounds to be played to determine the overall champion, thus do not miss our next Jass-Evenings scheduled for Nov 21 (Thursday), Dec 10 (Tuesday), Jan 16 (Thursday) and Feb 20 (Thursday); we would like to start at 7:45 pm.

I do look forward to seeing all the Jass-Fans for another exiting Jass-Session.

Wishing you in advance "E guets Blatt".

First International SAT Golf Championship
Thailand 30.10. - 3.11.91

A mixed field of athletes gathered in the early morning of 30th October 1991 at the CKS-Airport to board the EVA flight to Bangkok. Participants ranged from professionals like Hans Boehi and Hans Siegrist to challengers with several years experience like Serge Humbert-Droz, Po-Len Yeh, Paul Chen and Manuel Staerkle to the two newcomers in this sport, Jost Feer and Benno Kriech.

Immediately after landing in Bangkok they attacked the Royal Army Golf Course for a 18 - hole practice round. Based on these results the handicap of some too modest challengers had to be revised downwards in order to not give them any unfair advantage for the upcoming competitions.

Siam Country Club Tournament 31.10.91

Although the participants arrived in the Dusit Resort Hotel in Pattaya only at 23:00 the evening before, they were very optimistic at the start of the tournament under very nice weather. With a gross score of 85 Hans Boehi clearly dictated the race. Net score results:

1. Hans Boehi	74	5. Jost Feer	77
2. Hans Siegrist	75	6. Benno Kriech	77
3. Paul Chen	75	7. Manuel Staerkle	79
4. Po-Len Yeh	76	8. Serge Humbert-Droz	81

However it has to be added that Serge Humbert-Droz's handicap was lowered into the professional league just the day before... Very nice prizes were offered by the champion to the runners-up during the ceremony in the evening.

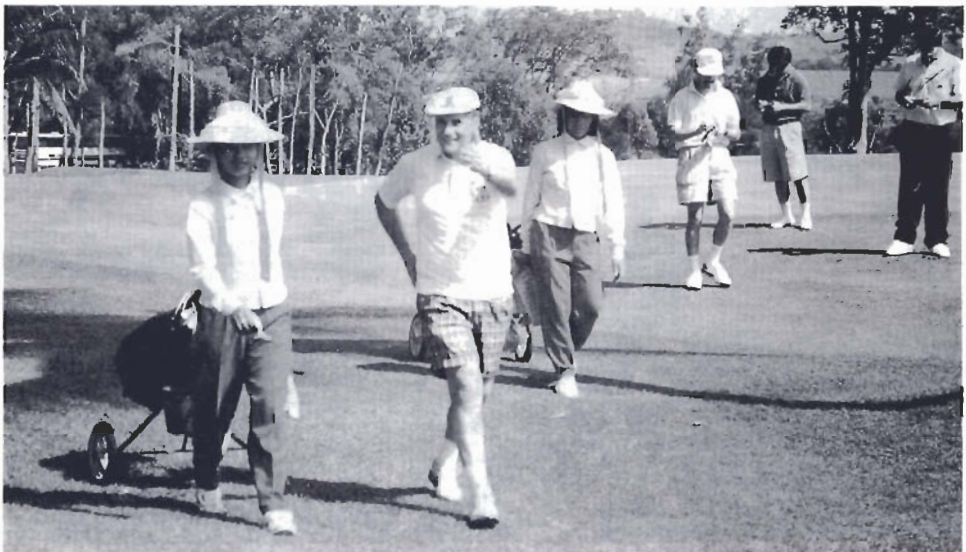

Bangpra Golf Intl. Tournament 1.11.91

Early in the morning the athletes were transferred to the nicely located Resort Hotel of Bangpra Golf course. The again ideal weather conditions however could not reduce the number of balls lost in the numerous water hazards.

Unfortunately the exact results have not been transmitted to Taipei yet. All what is remembered is the fantastic result of Hans Boehi with a gross score of 83 strokes!

Although there were no more natural prizes the trophy consisting of start money together with the various fines for water-, sand- and treeshots accumulated to almost professional categories.

Panya Resort Intl. Double Tournament 2.11.91

The final competition was carried out with a different system as it was a team - championship. The various groups were put together by lottery. The semi-final was played during the first nine holes.

In group 1 the team Siegrist/Chen took the lead immediately and won clearly against Boehi/Feer with an advantage of 9 points.

Group 2 however offered a spectacular fight to the finish. It was only on the ninth whole when the duo Staerkle/Kriech won against Humbert-Droz/Yeh with a difference of one stroke!

The small final for the third place was won relatively easy by Boehi/Feer with a difference of 8 points. In the fight for the championship-title the beginners Staerkle/Kriech took a lead of 5 points after 4 holes against the clear favorites Siegrist/Chen. Tension mounted again as this advantage began to shrink, but Staerkle/Kriech saved 2 points to the end and won this tournament:

- | | | | |
|----|--------------|---|--------|
| 1. | Staerkle | / | Kriech |
| 2. | Siegrist | / | Chen |
| 3. | Boehi | / | Feer |
| 4. | Humbert-Droz | / | Yeh |

The prize-giving ceremony was held in Bangkok, in the world's largest restaurant (the waiters were driving around with roller-skates). Sunday morning was used by most for some last-minute shopping and EVA-Air brought the athletes safely back to Taipei.

It was a wonderful trip which will be certainly repeated. Special thanks to Manuel Staerkle for organizing the trip and taking care of the 4(!) domestic guides etc. as well as to our champion Hans Boehi for being the local guide in Thailand to and from golf-courses...
